BETHEL 9—RUMFORD POINT 8

Bethel nosed out Rumford Point 9 to 8 in a league game played here last Thursday night.

Saunders opened the game with a double and scored when "Wally" fielded a grounder by L. Knight and ran over to first for the put-out. In the fourth with one man gone Glines hit a triple and scored when E. Knight connected for a single. Knight stole second and scored from there on Roach's single to end the scoring for that inning.

In the third Littlehale, first man up, struck out for the first out, then Stanley got on on an error by the second baseman. Bartlett and Keddy singled to score Stanley. Doyen fled out, Saunders uncorked a wild throw after fielding Maguire's grounder, allowing Bartlett to score, and Keddy moved to third. Roach fumbled Young's grounder then threw wild to first and Keddy and Maguire scored.

Young scored on Hood's double and Morgan singled in Littlehale up for the second time this inning, grounded out to end the inning. Bethel scored a run in each the fifth and sixth innings to make the score 8-3.

"Bud" Browne went in to pitch the last two innings and got by the sixth with two strikeouts and one hit by E. Knight with Maguire catching him trying to steal second. Browne struck out the first man up in the seventh, walked the next. An error by Stanley allowed Elliott to get on after Saunders struck out. Bud threw a wild pitch to score Heath then passed L. Knight. Glines singled to score Elliott and Knight, went to third on E. Knight's single, then both scored as Roach singled. Foster fled out end the inning.

With the score tied Littlehale got on when the catcher missed his third strike, went to second as Stanley walked. Stanley was forced at second on Bartlett's grounder. This put Littlehale on third and Keddy laid a perfect bunt along the first base line to score Littlehale and end the ball game.

People and Spots in the Late News

TAXES ON FUN... A survey of summer vacation costs made by the National Consumers Tax Commission shows that hidden taxes even follow play-minded Americans on their annual outings, accounting, for example, for 55 cents—about 11 per cent—of the consumer price on even such a simple playsuit as that worn here by pretty Lois Fox of Chicago.

FAST FARMING... Symbolic of the labor-saving speed of modern rubber-shod farm mobile equipment is the way this "self rubber-track-laying" Marmon-Herrington tractor takes a high-banked turn at 45 miles an hour in a "farmyard derby" on the same World's Fair track where Jimmie Lynch's auto-bouncing death dodgers hold forth.

ARMED TO THE TOOTH... Caught by the camera in appropriate "fighting" pose is 18-day-old Raymond Dean Kimbrell of Chattanooga, Tenn., who came into the world equipped with a fully-emerged lower front incisor. "And don't say I didn't," he seems to be warning skeptics here.

COAL RUNS AUTO... "Liquid coal" was tried out as an auto fuel in experiments by Dr. Francis Godwin of Armour Institute, shown here filling temporary tank under hood of a stock car whose only adjustment was removal of fine screen from carburetor. It is a colloid fuel, 40 per cent coal and 60 per cent range fuel oil.

BRITAIN ARMS THE AIR... A glimpse into one of the "shadow factories" of England reveals this array of super-speed (257 miles an hour) bombers, part of the reported 1,000-warplanes-a-month with which Britain is arming for air defense. Odd construction of fuselage framework of these ships is termed "geodetic," designed to give extra strength.

STARS OVER TOLEDO... The golfing team of Johnny Revolta (left) and Henry Picard captured top honors in the Inverness four-ball tourney which is focusing national golf attention on Toledo. They won in a play-off with two other pairs—Sam Snead-Vic Ghezzi and Byron Nelson-Jug McSpaden—which also survived from the hand-picked, 16-star field.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our Grange, our Sister Lillian Hopkins and

Whereas, it is fitting that we pay a last tribute to her memory, That although she was unable to attend very many meetings, all who knew her remember her pleasant smile and her enjoyment of greeting our members,

Therefore, be it resolved that while we bow our heads in submission, we realize that the loss will be deeply felt by the public and in her community,

Resolved, that our deepest sympathy be extended to the bereaved relatives of the deceased, and that He, who doeth all things well, will comfort them in their sorrow.

"There is no death; What seemeth so is sleep,

The grave is like a cradle warm and deep

In which earth's weary children rest and dream a little time;

Then comes the morning beam And they awake as do the flowers in spring

To men, sweet life and fuller blossoming."

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our records, a copy sent to the bereaved family, also a copy sent to the Oxford County Citizen for publication and that our charter be draped for thirty days.

40 YEARS AGO in the NEWS

June 28, 1900

The County Commissioners gave a hearing Thursday in Bethel on the petition for laying out a new piece of road, beginning near the house of O. R. Stanley on the Middle Intervale road and along the upland and Intervale to the Sanborn buildings, a distance of about 1 1/4 miles. The road was located practically as asked for in the petition. This road will do away with the series of steep hills which for years has been a terror to all who were obliged to team over the Intervale road.

The new church at Errol will be dedicated June 28 at 1:30 p. m.

"THEY TELL ME"

Well you know I thought that the "sidewalk superintendents" must have pretty much disbanded this year. Last year around town they bunched up around the Academy's new work all summer and fall but this spring there it hasn't been so good because most of the work has been under cover. And to look at things around there now it is about as calm as any other vacation time. Only there are a lot of cars parked around just like school is keeping. But I guess you would find more men folks in the girls' dormitory than there have been for a long time. But that's all right because they are fixing the whole place better than ever, even if we can't see it happen. However a few of us have had some busy seasons watching the building climbing up Mill Hill yesterday and day before. Of course the big event of the week, or perhaps the year, should have been Jim Farley's visit here. But he got here and went before we knew it so a lot of us didn't see him at all. However the house that Abner is moving, or having moved, is quite an attraction and folks are wondering as usual why they don't do it different and what it is going to cost.

Uncle Hiram

Miss Beatrice Fossenden of New York, Miss Josephine Baker of Dallas, Texas, and Miss Molly Bryant of Cornwall, England, were Thursday guests of Mary Ann Tibbets.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Dennison and daughter from Haworth, N. J., were guests of her sister, Mrs. Ray Crockett, Wednesday. Other guests were her mother, Mrs. Ada Billings of South Paris, and her sister, Mrs. Albert Roy, and daughter of Norway.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

PICTURES AND SPORT

Combine photography with your sports or other hobbies... for studies of "form" in golf... wild-life studies if you are a hiker... and so on. Picture taking mixes well with almost any other hobby.

ONE of the fascinating features of photography, as a hobby, is that it fits in perfectly with almost any other hobby or interest. In particular, nowadays, outdoor enthusiasts are finding that picture taking harmonizes admirably with such sports as hunting, fishing, hiking, golf, and other open-air activities.

More sports enthusiasts are taking pictures because modern cameras are so light, compact, and easy to carry. Cameras taking fairly large pictures have been reduced in bulk in recent years, while many fine present-day miniature cameras are so compactly built that they can be carried in a pocket at all times.

Operation has been made more convenient, too, so that picture taking is quick and easy. Therefore, the sportsman can use his camera about as he would a notebook, "jotting down" in picture form each interesting detail of his trip or sport activities.

This is the modern way to use a camera. Instead of taking random snapshots, one here, one there, the wise picture taker tries to keep a full, well-rounded picture record of all the things he does and sees. And such "notebook" pictures add greatly to the pleasure of other sports and hobbies.

For example, the hiker or mountain climber may employ his camera for pictures of woodland plants and wild life—gradually building up a collection which is genuinely worth while. The hunter records his camps, his kills, the trails and waters he traverses—building up an enviable story of travel and outdoor life. The golf professional may use a home movie camera to make slow-motion pictures of his students, so that they can study their errors on the movie screen—or golfers may take movies of each other for the same purpose.

From these examples, it is easy to see how photography can enrich and broaden other hobbies. It fits in with any of them—and its great virtue is that pictures have lasting value. Therefore, by using the camera to record our other hobbies and activities, we can put them in enduring form... and enjoy them over and over again.

Petroleum Industry Has

Variety of Expressions

The petroleum industry has created a highly picturesque language of its own. Many of its terms and expressions are understandable only to those within the industry. Here is a short glossary, given by a writer in the Chicago Tribune, of some of the more common terms:

Location—Where a stake is driven marking a spot where a well is to be driven.

Gusher—An oil or gas well which blows oil or gas into the air.

Wild cat—A location, drilling operation or well which is producing, located outside a well defined producing area.

Wild well—A gusher out of control.

Rotary—(a) General term for rotary tools and equipment. (b) type of drilling tool which bores into the earth in a manner similar to the way in which an auger bores into wood.

Pits and cellar—Excavation pits are used to hold water and drilling fluid; the cellar is the walled up space under the derrick where rotary connections are installed.

Tool pusher—One having charge of the contractor's field work.

Tour (pronounced tower)—The working period for oil field employees. Field men say "going on tour" for starting to work and "going off tour" for quitting.

Roughneck—A man who works on the derrick floor of a rotary rig; usually there are four of them, known as the firemen or potmen, derrickmen and two "floormen."

Roustabout—A lease worker or outside man on a rotary crew. The term is used loosely to mean a general handy man.

Cable tools (also called standard tools)—Drilling equipment which makes a hole by pounding in the same way that a hole is made when a stake is driven into the ground.

Nautical Terms

The following are some nautical terms: A fathom is 6 feet. Knot—A nautical mile—commonly called a knot—is 6,080 feet, or 1.17 land miles. Formerly, a ship's speed was measured in miles per hour, by the number of log-line knots—50 feet apart—passing a given point in 30 seconds. Log: (a) An instrument towed by a vessel at the end of a long line, recording approximate distance traveled. (b) Official daily record of a voyage, including weather, wind, direction and velocity, distance traveled, etc. Port: As one aboard ship faces the bow, the port side is on the left. Starboard: As one aboard ship faces the bow, the starboard is on his right.

Marriage Custom From Zulul

South Africa's strangest marriage custom for Englishmen dwelling there is taken from the Zulul. The custom is that of presenting the bride's father with a bride payment, or "lobola." Since the "lobola" consists of cattle among the Zulu people, residents of South Africa, who practice the custom present the father with tiny replicas of cattle, dogs and other animals and these are displayed in the bride's old home.

First Oil Well in America

The first oil well in America, the "Old American," was probably drilled about March, 1829, on Little Renox creek, near Burkesville, Ky. The oil was sold as a "cure-all" for years, both in America and Europe. The modern petroleum industry owes its origin to an oil well "drilled" by Col. Edwin L. Drake, near Titusville, Pa. It came into production on August 27, 1859, a date now generally observed as that of the start of commercial production of oil in the United States.

"He Advertised"

United States Produces

Largest Supply of Corn

Early Colonists raised crops of Indian corn from the first, and many times corn saved them from starvation, for they seemed to fail in their small wheat fields. It was corn that kept them supplied with bread, observes a writer in the Rural New-Yorker.

In all the years since then, corn has been the great American cereal crop. "Corn is King" in most of our north central states.

More than half the corn in the world is grown in the United States. The second country in corn production is Argentina, the third is Soviet Russia and the fourth is Brazil. Leading all our states, Iowa, with her 11,000,000 acres planted to corn can produce an annual average of 400,000,000 bushels. More than half of Wisconsin's 2,400,000 acres of corn are cut into the silos.

The pioneers of America made constant use of corn for their daily needs, but the program was pretty much the same, day after day. They had coarsely ground meal, hulled corn and parched corn. Then in mid-summer there were the roasting ears. They had the corn-meal mush and, on special occasions, the Indian pudding.

Their grinding mills of those pioneer days were only the simple outfits that Indian women had used for centuries before. Rude little hand mills, as they were, only enough ground or cracked corn was furnished to supply the household from day to day. After a few years the Colonists rigged up larger millstones and, later, harnessed the water power for their operation.

New World's Oldest Book

Rests in Texas Library

A copy of "Doctrina Breve," oldest book printed in America, rests in the University of Texas library.

The volume, which the librarian says is one of three in the United States, is a catechism printed in Mexico in 1543 and 1544 by Bishop Juan de Zumarraga, whose printing press was the first brought to the New World. Zumarraga had printed books in America three years earlier, but none of those are known to exist now.

The Spanish volume, bound in heavy Spanish leather decorated with gold tooling, is in an excellent state of preservation, according to the Latin-American librarian at the university.

"Doctrina Breve" is included in a collection of 160 volumes and 50,000 pages of manuscripts obtained by purchase from heirs of Joaquin Garcia Icazbalceta, noted Mexican historian and collector.

Among the manuscripts is a letter from Hernando Cortez to Emperor Charles V of Spain, written October 15, 1545.

Park's Fame Due to Voice

South Dakota is unique in its possession of the only national park whose fame is due to its voice. Wind cave was first found because of the strange whistling noise that is caused by the passage of air in and out of its original entrance. The phenomenon is believed to be due to changing temperatures outside the cave as the direction in which the wind blows through the entrance depends upon atmospheric conditions.

Meaning of Name Ulysses

The name Ulysses, Latin form of the Greek Odysseus, means "the hater," or "angry or wrathful one." The heroic exploits of Ulysses, king of Ithaca, in the Trojan war are told in Homer's "Odyssey." Absent 20 years, he returned to find his wife Penelope faithfully waiting, refusing to believe him dead. Ulysses, a sixteenth century Italian naturalist, founded the botanical garden of Bologna and was first to collect an herbarium.

Jeweler's Rouge

Jeweler's rouge is a mineral substance. In its preparation crystals of sulphate of iron, commonly known as copperas, are heated in iron pots, by which the sulphuric acid is expelled and the oxide of iron remains. These portions least calcined, when ground, are used for polishing gold and silver. These are of a bright crimson color. The darker and more calcined portions are known as crocus, and are used in polishing glass, metal or gems. Jeweler's rouge is a fine, gently calcined variety.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

JUST WHAT IS GOOD WILL?

A FEW months ago, according to that beguiling writer, Bruce Barton, a large factory caught fire. It burned to the ground. Sirens shrieked. Crowds milled. Firemen fought the flames. Newspaper reporters scurried here and there after stories. Consternation reigned. Amid all this confusion the most serene man in sight was the president of the factory, the man who should have been the most excited. Alighting from his car, he strolled over to where that which he had spent years in building was becoming a total loss. He was calm, at ease, undisturbed.

A newspaper man spied him, asked him why he was no more concerned. He explained that the loss was fully covered by insurance and that, besides, the most valuable asset of the business hadn't even been touched by the fire.

"To what asset do you refer, Mr. Burlingame?"

"Why, to our good will. We can build a new factory—now we'll have to. We can buy new machinery—better machinery than was in the old plant. As long as the good will of a business is intact, nothing else matters," he concluded.

He was right. The most important thing a business man has is the good will of his customers. Every business which has that is successful; every business which does not have it fails.

Good will is not a mysterious quality like genius. It is a simple, commonsense matter depending upon doing simple, commonsense things.

The first of these consists of giving good value and service, that the business may win and hold friends. The second consists of making the fact that the business is the kind which wins and holds friends known to its customers, by telling them of its ideals and its services and its merchandise.

This telling process is called advertising. Whenever a manufacturer or a merchant advertises in the newspaper he informs you that he is the kind of business man whom you would pay to patronize. He makes public the fact that he wants good will and that he realizes the only way he can keep it is by living up to his promises.

You as a customer get more for your money when you patronize a concern with good will. Good will is proof that the concern has done something to warrant the friendship and confidence of its customers.

You see, good will doesn't just happen. It is created—by good goods, by good service, by good advertising.
